VIEWING THE COMPANY WITH SHARP EYES

The first time I went to the company was in the middle of the year. I had been told that it was a very interesting place to work, and I was curious to see what it was like. The company was a small, family-owned business, and the atmosphere was very relaxed. I was welcomed by the owner, who was a very friendly and approachable man. He showed me around the office and introduced me to the other employees. I was impressed by the way they worked together and the sense of team spirit that pervaded the place.
