

Office of Rural, Community and Native Education
Office of the Vice Chancellor/Executive Dean
College of Rural and Community Development

PO Box 756500, Fairbanks, Alaska 99775-6500

telecourses/teleconferences that greatly expanded the range of course offerings to remote areas and villages, and ushered in UA's ability to offer A.A. degrees to remote areas.

Peggy also directed the Alaska Native Materials Development Center, and developed learning materials to meet a growing demand for instruction in new areas. She oversaw the administration and Alaska Native teacher aide training. She also assisted in the development of materials to enhance village-based instruction.

In 1986 Peggy moved to Dillingham as Director of the Bristol Bay Campus. She held this position at the Bristol Bay Campus for

America's Arctic University

UAF is an AA/EEO employer and educational institution.

